Get the right advice and find the right products to manage incontinence effectively at home

Surgical House and Kavita Shiyani are working together to offer a reliable solution for continence assessments, advice and products.

Kavita is a Registered Nurse and qualified Continence Nurse Advisor who is available to provide assessments face-to-face, by phone or online. She works with people of all ages and can provide help and reassurance for those experiencing light to moderate incontinence through to those with more complex needs.

A meeting with Kavita will include assessing a person's continence needs, developing a care plan and selecting the best products. This can take from 1-3 hours (depending on complexity). Kavita will cover all aspects of continence care from pads and catheters to cleansing and protecting the skin.

Kavita has a host of healthcare qualifications, is AHPRA Registered and is fluent in English, Hindi, Gujarati and Punjabi.

Surgical House is a WA family-owned business that has been supplying healthcare products and equipment since 1980. We stock an extensive range of continence products from leading manufacturers and can support people in our Osborne Park showroom or by phone. We can also arrange continence training for care staff.

Payment for assessments is negotiated and made directly with Kavita. Surgical House will provide a free, no-obligation quote on all products recommended through the assessment.
